

Extend the Benefits of Kronos webTA to Your Off-Site and Mobile Workforce

As a Kronos[®] webTA[™] customer, you are achieving many benefits by automating your agency's workforce management processes, such as time, attendance, and labor management. Until now, however, the benefits of webTA workforce management were only available to your on-site workforce. Now you can extend the benefits of webTA to your off-site and mobile workforce with Kronos webTA Mobile[™].

Kronos webTA Mobile extends the reach of your webTA solution to federal employees who work where computer or terminal access isn't possible, practical, or efficient. webTA Mobile allows your employees to enter their time, attendance, leave requests, and more through their BlackBerry devices. This allows you to automate processes and improve data accuracy for your entire workforce — which helps to further reduce payroll errors and increase productivity.

With webTA Mobile, your employees can:

- Capture hours worked
- Allocate time to different projects
- Submit leave requests
- Submit premium pay requests
- View all hours worked for a pay period
- View tasks and submit completed tasks

Convenient, anytime access for your employees

With webTA Mobile, your employees can conveniently enter information whether they are offline or online. This means that even if an Internet connection is not immediately available, employees can enter their time and attendance on their BlackBerry devices. When a connection becomes available, your employees' information is automatically transmitted to the webTA server.

webTA Mobile provides interoperability across platforms by representing and transmitting data that is independent of programming language, software platform, and hardware. Additionally, webTA Mobile utilizes standard protocols to exchange information and enable computer systems on any platform to communicate over agency intranets and extranets and across the Internet. The product also provides support for end-to-end security and distributed transactions.
